

IN THE CLAIMS:

Please amend the claims as follows:

1. (Currently Amended) A multilingual server system comprising:

means for at least one server;

means for a multilingual system disposed within said at least one server further having at least one module written in an interpreted language and at least one language module file containing at least one text string formatted as a variable compatible with said interpreted language;

means for a ~~first-network~~ connection in operable communication with said multilingual system and a ~~first-network~~; ~~and~~

—————wherein said multilingual system is configured to allow operable communication with at least one client, and wherein said multilingual system is configured to allow operable communication with a multilingual database using said ~~first-network~~ connection through said ~~first-network~~, and wherein said multilingual system is configured to allow operable use of said at least one language module file.